More than we imagine
More than the wildest dream
Anything can happen
You're always doing greater things

Hope on the horizon
In every word You speak
Dawn is just arriving
You're always doing greater things

We believe there's greater things in store
Nothing like we've ever seen before
Even in the uncertain
We will return in worship
We know there's greater things in store

We're stepping forth in faith
We'll trust in the provider
He's always doing greater things

Saw Satan fall like lightning, all enemies retreat
More in store we're looking to the King
